Micro Purchases: Streamlined Procurement for Government Agencies

Unlock the benefits of micro purchases to make your government procurement processes faster and more efficient. Under the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR), micro purchases allow government agencies to acquire goods and services quickly, with minimal administrative burdens and simplified competitive requirements.

Key Points of Micro Purchase Thresholds

Threshold Amounts:

Generally up to $10,000, but this amount can vary depending on specific conditions and requirements.

Simplified Procedures:

Streamlined processes that significantly reduce paperwork and expedite purchasing, making it easier for government agencies to quickly acquire necessary goods and services.

Competitive Requirements:

Simplified rules that encourage small business participation and ensure reasonable pricing without the need for extensive bidding processes.

Relevant FAR

Key FAR References for Micro Purchases:

- FAR 13.003 – Policy on simplified acquisition procedures
- FAR 13.104 – Promoting competition
- FAR 13.106 – Soliciting competition, evaluation of quotations or offers, and award
- FAR 13.501 – Special documentation requirements
